Dear Gerry Hansen and Madeleine Ashcroft:

Congratulations! It is our pleasure to inform you that Infection Prevention and Control Canada has received CNA accreditation for the Certification in Infection Control Examination.

The CNA Accreditation Program upholds standards of quality for continuing professional development for nurses in Canada. By accrediting examination through CNA, you are showing nurses that your program has been subject to a rigorous quality assessment and has achieved nationwide recognition.

Your CNA accreditation is valid until February 18, 2022. You may proudly promote your achievement by using the attached marks on your communication materials and certificates of achievement. These marks may not be altered and are exclusively for use with the examination for which you have achieved accreditation.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us. On behalf of the CNA board of directors and the CNA Accreditation Program, we once again offer our sincere congratulations on your achievement and I extend my personal best wishes for your continued success!

Sincerely,

Mike Villeneuve, RN, M.Sc.
Chief Executive Officer
